Foreword

There are moments in human history when uncertainty seems to overshadow hope, when fear spreads faster than facts, and when entire nations are confronted with circumstances beyond their control. Yet, throughout every generation, one truth has remained constant: God has never abandoned His people.

This Too Shall Pass is a timely message of faith, courage, and divine assurance delivered by Pastor (Mrs) Faith Oyedepo. In this powerful teaching, she draws attention to the lessons of history and the unchanging faithfulness of God. By examining previous global crises and pandemics, she reminds us that no challenge is permanent and that every season, no matter how difficult, eventually gives way to God's appointed deliverance.

What makes this message especially significant is its balanced perspective. It neither ignores the realities of life's challenges nor surrenders to fear. Instead, it points believers back to the One who remains in control when the world appears uncertain. Through practical wisdom and scriptural insight, Pastor Faith Oyedepo encourages readers to maintain a positive attitude, remain spiritually sensitive, strengthen family relationships, reject fear, and place unwavering trust in God.

The pages that follow are more than a reflection on a difficult season; they are a reminder of the believer's covenant of divine preservation. They testify to the fact that while circumstances may change, God's promises remain sure. His mercy still prevails, His protection still endures, and His grace remains sufficient for every challenge.

Indeed, this too shall pass.

Publisher's Note

This book is a faithful transcript of a live sermon delivered by the preacher under the inspiration and unction of the Holy Spirit. Every effort has been made to preserve the preacher's exact words, tone, flow, and spiritual authority, while carefully proofreading and formatting the message into a clear and readable ebook format.

The message you are about to read was originally ministered in a live congregational setting. As such, it carries the weight, urgency, and atmosphere of that sacred gathering. Minor grammatical and structural adjustments have been made solely to enhance readability, without altering the substance, intent, or power of the original delivery.

Livingsermons.com does not claim ownership of this message. All spiritual credit and ministerial authority belong to the preacher through whom the Word was delivered. Our role is that of stewards and editors—serving the Body of Christ by preserving and distributing life-giving messages in accessible digital formats.

Our commitment is excellence without dilution.

Our standard is reverence for the Word of God.

Our daily goal is to transform powerful live sermons into polished PDF and ebook editions for the edification of the Body of Christ.

It is our prayer that as you read, the same grace, conviction, clarity, and impartation present in the live service will minister to you afresh.

Main Message

Begins Here

Introduction

Today, I want to share with you on the topic: This Too Shall Pass

From history, I discovered that before COVID-19, over fifty deadly plagues had struck the world at different times. Many of them were considered even deadlier, claiming millions of lives. Yet the good news is that the mercy of God has always prevailed, and that same mercy will prevail in this instance.

Deadly Plagues in History

The Antonine Plague

Between A.D. 165 and 180, an epidemic believed to have been either smallpox or measles first appeared in Asia and spread to various parts of the world, killing millions of people.

The Plague of Justinian

We are also told about the Plague of Justinian, which began in A.D. 541. It was a devastating plague that reportedly claimed over one hundred million lives.

Interestingly, citizens were ordered to wear face masks, and social and public gatherings were suspended, much like what we have experienced in recent times.

The Bubonic Plague (The Black Death)

History records another deadly plague known as the Bubonic Plague or the Black Death. Estimated deaths from this plague ranged between twenty and thirty million people globally. It was indeed a terrible season.

The Spanish Flu Pandemic

Then came the Spanish Flu pandemic of 1918. This outbreak was also very deadly, claiming millions of lives.

Yet, at the end of it all, God came through for humanity.

The Asian Flu

In 1957, the Asian Flu emerged and reportedly claimed about 1.5 million lives.

Again, God came through.

HIV/AIDS

In 1979, HIV/AIDS began to spread across the world. Presently, millions of people have been affected globally. Yet God still came through.

Ebola

You will also remember the Ebola outbreak, which started in 1976. We are told it began in Sudan and spread to other nations. More than 11,000 deaths were recorded.

Yet the good news in all of this is that every plague that once seemed unstoppable eventually became history.

COVID-19 Will Also Pass

I want you to listen very carefully.

COVID-19 may be trending now, but very soon it will become history like the previous pandemics.

I want you to know that you, as an individual, shall be supernaturally exempted.

Therefore, right now, I pray in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ: no matter your situation, I decree supernatural covering and protection from this deadly plague.

Remember:

- There will be life on our streets again.
- There will be renewed fellowship with God.
- There will be strong gratitude for life and health.
- There will be greater purpose for humanity.

And you shall be part of that testimony.

Humanity Will Always Need God

Among the many lessons this coronavirus pandemic has brought to the forefront is the undeniable fact that man will always need God.

Without God, man is helpless.

Consider all the technological advancements in the world today. Yet within a short period, coronavirus became a global threat. This shows clearly that without God's mercy and help, humanity is doomed.

Humanity cannot do without God.

No matter what is happening across the nations of the earth today, remember that God is our only true help.

Hold firmly to Him, and He will not fail you in the Name of Jesus Christ.

Never Accuse God

At this time, I want to advise you to maintain certain attitudes that will help you triumph through this season.

1. Never Accuse God

Do not blame God.

Do not point an accusing finger at Him because He is our only help.

If you hurt Him, who will help you?

If you accuse Him, who will rescue you?

God has always rescued humanity from previous plagues, and the same God will rescue you.

Refuse to be offended with God.

Remember Joseph in the Bible. While he was in prison, he never accused God because of his ordeal. Instead, he invested his time wisely and continued interpreting dreams for the butler and the baker.

Eventually, he came out triumphantly.

You too will come out triumphantly from this situation.

Are you already infected by this disease? I decree your total healing in Jesus' Name.

You may say, "I have already lost a loved one to COVID-19."

Yes, he or she may not return physically, but remember this important truth: if you have lost something, thank God you have not lost everything.

Therefore, hold on to God.

Have a Positive Attitude

2. Have a Positive Attitude Towards Life

This is very important.

Stay happy because happiness boosts your immunity.

We are told that while Nelson Mandela was imprisoned from 1964, he remained studious and productive. During that season, he wrote a book titled Long Walk to Freedom.

No wonder God eventually used him to bring freedom to his nation.

Remain Spiritually Sensitive

3. Stay Spiritually Sensitive

Spiritual starvation is a risk.

Businesses may be closed. Church buildings may also be temporarily closed. However, remember that the true church begins in your heart.

Stay spiritually alert and active.

Study the Word.

Pray more.

Meditate more.

As you do so, you will come out victoriously.

Refuse to Fear

4. Refuse to Fear

This is very important.

What you fear is what ultimately has the power to overwhelm you. Man is often held captive by fear.

It is said that there are 365 "fear not" declarations in the Bible—one for every day of the year. Therefore, wherever you may be right now, I curse the spirit of fear in your life, and I decree your total liberty.

You shall not fall in Jesus' Name.

Stay Mentally and Physically Alive

5. Stay Mentally and Physically Alive

Physically

Make sure you eat healthy.

Remember, you are what you eat.

Exercise regularly.

Take walks.

Stay fit.

Go jogging if possible.

Just make sure you keep moving.

Mentally

Avoid information overload, particularly concerning the virus that is ravaging the earth.

Engage in productive thinking.

Learn a new skill.

Start an online course.

Work from home if necessary.

Remain productive.

Strengthen Family Relationships

6. Strengthen Your Family Relationships

Emotionally, strengthen family bonds.

Maintain good relationships and healthy associations.

Remember:

"Evil communications corrupt good manners."

Make sure you surround yourself with the right influences.

Conclusion

In conclusion, I want to leave you with a word from the Lord that He has put in my heart for you today.

The Bible says:

"He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee." — Job 5:19 (KJV)

Therefore, no matter what may be happening around the world today, God is in control, and you shall be exempted from all evil.

This coronavirus shall soon become history.

Salvation Call

Are you born again?

Today is the day of salvation.

Pray this prayer sincerely from your heart:

"Lord Jesus, today I come to You. I am a sinner. Forgive me and wash me with Your precious blood. From today, I am Your child. In Jesus' Name, Amen."

Final Words

Congratulations!

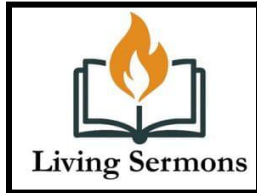

If you prayed that prayer from your heart, you are now born again.

Connect through the appropriate channels available to you and share your testimony.

Always remember:

God is able to see you through.

See you next time.

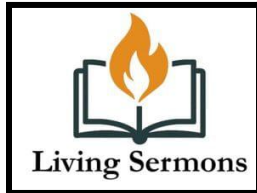

About the Speaker

Pastor (Mrs.) Faith Oyedepo is a Nigerian Christian author, teacher, and preacher widely known for her consistent ministry alongside her husband, David Oyedepo, the founder of Living Faith Church Worldwide (Winners' Chapel).

She has served for decades in the Christian ministry, with a strong emphasis on marriage, family life, womanhood, and godly character. Her teachings are marked by simplicity, practical wisdom, and a focus on building stable Christian homes rooted in scriptural principles.

Beyond her public teaching role, she is also recognized for her consistent support in church leadership development and humanitarian efforts connected to the ministry she co-labors in. Over the years, her voice has remained steady in reinforcing values of faith, order, and responsibility in Christian family structures.

Her contribution to contemporary Nigerian Christianity is largely seen through the lens of discipleship in the home, where she continues to influence both younger and older generations of believers through teaching, example, and structured mentorship within the church community.

About Living Sermons

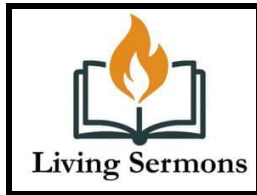

Living Sermons is a Spirit-led publishing platform dedicated to transforming timeless messages of God’s servants into books that can reach and impact lives across the world.

Our mission is simple: to preserve the wisdom, revelation, and anointing carried in the preached Word and make it accessible in formats that can be studied, shared, and revisited for generations. By turning sermons into high-quality Christian books and eBooks, we extend the life and influence of each message far beyond the pulpit.

At Living Sermons, we believe that the preached Word is living and powerful (Hebrews 4:12). Every sermon carries truth that can instruct, comfort, rebuke, inspire, and transform. Our role is to faithfully capture these words, polish them for clarity and readability, and present them in a way that maintains the preacher’s unique voice and anointing.

Through our work, messages that might otherwise be heard once are preserved as lasting resources for teaching, devotion, discipleship, and evangelism. These books are designed not just for reading but for equipping believers, strengthening families, and advancing the Kingdom of God.
